

THREE WIVES YANK OUT HAIR IN FIGHT OVER ONE HUSBAND

"Gussie—Hussy!" Says Anna,
Starting General Battle in Court Building.

After explaining to Judge Crain in General Sessions the complicated domestic affairs of Henry Schuster, a street car conductor of No. 157 East Second Street, Charles Zunker, counsel of the National Deserter Bureau, took Anna, Minnie and Gussie, the three claimants of the conductor's hand and fortunes, into the corridor for a conference.

They were hardly over the door when Anna gathered a strand of the hair of Gussie, the most youthful of the trio, vindictively muttering "Gussie—Hussy!"

At about the same moment a full slap of Minnie's hand closed Anna's mouth. Gussie let fly with her foot at the shins of both. Mr. Zunker put his arms before his face and backed away.

"If he's loved you as much as he did me," asserted Gussie, "he wouldn't have left you."

"You must have had money; certainly he didn't marry you for your looks," cried Minnie.

There were other unkind things said and there were blows and scratches and yanks at tumbled down hair. Many of the blows fell upon the hapless head of the lawyer. Court attendants and policemen came to his rescue and led the women to different entrances.

Anna Schuster, living at No. 108 Ridge Street, said she married Schuster fifteen years ago. They had one child and he deserted her, she said, after three years.

Mrs. Minnie Schuster said she was married to Schuster eleven years ago. They lived together ten years and had three children. She had an order from the Domestic Relations Court compelling him to support the children.

Mrs. Gussie Schuster said she had been Schuster's wife since last April. Judge Crain, at the suggestion of Mr. Zunker, put over the case without action so the lawyer might ar-

CHILDREN AND SULZER MUST STAND TRIAL

Effort to Dismiss Indictments Over
Mitchell's Campaign Funds
Ends in Failure.

A motion made and argued two weeks ago to dismiss the indictments against William Hamilton Childs, ex-Gov. William Sulzer and ex-Senator Josiah T. Newcomb for failure to properly account for the expenditure of funds contributed to the campaign for re-election of Mayor John Purroy Mitchell was dismissed to-day by Justice Barlow S. Weeks. The cases will go to trial shortly.

These indictments have been dragging along for many months. They were dismissed at one stage of the proceedings by Justice Finch but District Attorney Swann appealed to the Appellate Division and they were reinstated. Counsel for the indicted men then obtained possession of the minutes of the Grand Jury and made a new motion to dismiss. This was the motion denied by Justice Weeks to-day.

One of the accusations in the indictment against Mr. Childs, who is a multi-millionaire, is that the payment of $2,000 to Mr. Sulzer for his services in the campaign was not included in the report of the Campaign Committee to the Secretary of State. Justice Weeks did not file an opinion with his decision.

GERMANS STAKE ALL HOPE ON HARDING

Teutons Expect President-Elect to Compel Allies to Soften Terms.
A. C. Straus Declares.

The Manchurian of the American Line arrived from Hamburg to-day with 1,514 passengers after unusually severe storms on Dec. 31 and New Year's Day. The ship was enveloped in spray from the lofty waves, and a passenger, Sam Markowitz, was thrown so violently by the gale that both legs were broken.

A. C. Straus, nephew of Nathan Straus, was one of the passengers. He has been doing relief work in Germany and said the "one hope of the German people" is in Harding. The Germans believe Harding will bring pressure to bear on France and the Allies to reduce the indemnity. Mr. Straus added American markets are being flooded with German goods bought by the English and then reshipped to America with the "made in Germany" mark removed.

G. Sabo, a Lynbrook dog fancier, brought back five German police dogs—all he could find in Germany. He said the war had virtually wiped out the breed.

A "brick coupon" receipt of a subscription for the building and a number of historical documents were placed in the corner stone by Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Vice-President. The ceremony was preceded by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hammond, No. 9 East 21st Street, at which

The State representatives of the association, the diplomatic party, Major Gen. Wood and Gen. Nivelle of the French Army were guests.

THE success of Ovington's—"The Gift Shop of Fifth Avenue"—lies only partly in the hundreds of distinctive gifts they display. Much of the success lies in the refusal of thousands of other suggestions which are not quite the thing.
